

Our Environment and Play

Risky Play

Without the risk of failure you remove the satisfaction from completing a new challenge. Help the children fail safely and successfully.

Getting Outside

The outdoors provides new learning opportunities and a safer place for busy games. It's also a great place to do messy experiments.

Loose Parts

Letting children's imaginations run wild will provide interesting opportunities. Lego, sticks, stones and buttons are some loose parts to let children explore with.

Invitations and Provocations

Invitations are useful for finding new interests the children may have while provocations are an opportunity to build on an interest they already have.
