

Responsive Relationships

Ensure positive interactions between children, parents, educators, practitioners and community partners; prioritize the well-being and belonging of children and families

Respond to the needs and interests of children and families in a spirit of respect and kindness

Build and maintain positive working relationships with colleagues, community partners and parents

Putting the interests of children, parents and caregivers first, without judgment on abilities, social status or culture

